Dear Johnsons, I didn't know Josh, but all that I have heard confirms that you must be broken hearted to lose him in such a freak accident. I know you won't get over it, but you will go on with grace and I hope gratitude. With my husband's death I discovered gratitude was the best medicine to deal with grief. May you receive comfort and know that others are mindful of your great loss and wish only the best for you as you go forward, honoring and missing him. I am sure that he is grateful that you were his parents for his journey on earth. Fondly Judy Lever

Dear Kim and Dave: I am so deeply sorry for your loss. It has been many years since we've talked, but the miles and years fade away as my heart aches for you. May you find solace in your faith and the love of your family. Josh was clearly an extraordinary young man and Kim, I see you in his smile. You are in my prayers as I know you are in the prayers of so many others and I pray that helps lift you up. In deepest sympathy, Jennifer Rigby
