

Joshua Lee Hansen

August 21, 1991 ~ January 21, 2022

Oh, my heart goes out to you Susan and your family. I remember the last time I saw you and Josh. Both of you are so sweet and soft spoken. So kind. What a wonderful reunion in heaven with his siblings and other family! I believe Kyle is very happy to see him as well! I'm very grateful you thought of us and had your daughter call me. I'm very grateful for our love and understanding of the gospel of Jesus Christ. May peace and our love be with you and your family.

- Linda Stocking

Love and prayers for our dear friends at this tender time.

- Debbie and Curtis Stone

Our deepest condolences to you all. Let us know if you need anything.

- Tony and Carol Chiechi

Josh and I have been friends for eight years and I have loved getting to know his kindred spirit. I will miss seeing him in the orange flannel that he insisted on wearing, even in the summer. Finding steep hills to longboard down (but not too hard because he knew I wasn't very good). I will especially miss driving around with no destination in mind, so we could sit and talk about everything and nothing or just sit and listen to the newest music he had found. Your family is in my thoughts and I hope you all find peace. Josh was an amazing human and friend.

- Madison Hirase

Our sympathies go out to the parent's & sibling's of josh. We love you guy's with all our hearts

- Darrell Martin

Greg, Susan and Family, Although we've lived across the street from you for years, we haven't gotten to know you other than a brief conversation or wave. Your obituary for Josh was so eloquent it gave us insight to his personality and emotions. He seemed a very complex young man. We are so sorry for your loss. Rest in peace, Josh Dave and Shawna Cummings

- Dave and Shawna Cummings

Dear Greg & Susan: Just wanted you both to know how I mourned the loss of your wonderful Son. Years ago I remember him walking home from school and going past our home several times. He had these big beautiful brown eyes that could look at a person and see into the depths of their heart. Though shy, he had the ability to really see and truly understand others and what they may be going through. He was always respectful of others and their feelings. He was a friend with Whitney who was a few years older. She would always say what a great kid he was and she enjoyed talking with him. Sometimes this life is too painful for our loved ones. Jesus Christ knows each one perfectly. So wonderful for Josh to be held again in Christ's Loving Arms and have all his deep pains and hurt be healed and to feel True Joy again. We love all of your family so much and our prayers continue to be with you. Love Leslie & Karl Christensen

- Leslie Christensen

Dear Greg & Susan: Just wanted you both to know how I mourned the loss of your wonderful Son. Years ago I remember him walking home from school and going past our home several times. He had these big beautiful brown eyes that could look at a person and see into the depths of their heart. Though shy, he had the ability to really see and truly understand others and what they may be going through. He was always respectful of others and their feelings. He was a friend with Whitney who was a few years older. She would always say what a great kid he was and she enjoyed talking with him. Sometimes this life is too painful for our loved ones. Jesus Christ knows each one perfectly. So wonderful for Josh to be held again in Christ's Loving Arms and have all his deep pains and hurt be healed and to feel True Joy again. We love all of your family so much and our prayers continue to be with you. Love Leslie & Karl Christensen

- Leslie Christensen