

Kalli Brin Huntsman

December 26, 1968 ~ March 12, 2025

I know I am not alone when I say my heart hurts. I am so sad, for you and your family. What a ray of sunshine, She is a hilarious, full of life, intelligent, kind woman. I feel very blessed to have spent 15 days on a boat in very close quarters with her, I hadn't laughed and cried so much in a long time. My thoughts go out to all of her family. Cindy Morris

Dear Family, I am so sad to hear about Kalli. She was my best friend in High School and we had kept in touch loosely over the years. I wanted to send you my very best. I looked into flights but unfortunately I can not make it for her memorial. She was such a beautiful person I know she was very loved by her family and community and her friendship with me touched me deeply. I have so many fond memories of her from our youth and watching her raise her beautiful family. Even though we did not talk often I was truly so happy she made a beautiful life for herself. My warmest condolences, April Higashi (Berkeley, California)

ACTS 24:15 "And I have hope toward God, which hope these men also look forward to, that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous." I hope that this beautiful promise from God to resurrect right here on earth our loved ones who have been died fills your hearts with comfort and peace, soon we will hug them again.

Our deepest, heartfelt condolences for your loss. Although I did not get the opportunity to get to know Kalli well, I see the abundant and loving family she leaves behind as testament to how amazing of a mother and wife she was!! May she rest in eternal glory with God.

Look deep into that for which you grieve, And recognize that it has been your greatest joy. After a death, you don't fully recover.. You move forward, but loss stains you. You never quite heal. But, thats how it is supposed to be. your imperfections are what make you beautiful.

I am so sorry for your loss. Your wife and mother was always very kind to me. Losing a Mom is hard! My Mom passed away just before Christmas in 2023. I find myself thinking about her almost every day. I am sure that you will feel the same. She will be missed and never forgotten. I know that you know the great plan of happiness, and the rich promises of an eternal family. I hope that you will find comfort in the gospel of Jesus Christ. Your Kalli was an elect lady, whom I will never forget. My life is better because I know the Huntsman family!
