Dad, I have so many memories that I will always hold close to my heart. Dad I am a lucky girl because I am so blessed to have you and mom as my parents. You raised us well the love and kindness we have for one another is unstoppable. When any one of us have challenge happen in our life, we are always their for one another. I know from when the unthinkable has happened in my little family, my siblings and their families have always been right there. So supportive to help each other. I always feel the love from each one. We are so loved. To be able to always look at the positive in life and in every situation. I know god only gives you what you can handle. Thank you mom and dad for raising me to be strong loving and kind. Love you always, Paula
