sorry for your loss love you all god bless

- LYLE R WILSON

There are no words that anyone can say to express how horrible and senseless this was. My prayers are with you and your family." I ask for God's blessings on you and your wonderful family. Trust your emotions and allow yourself to grieve. What a great loss to the world! You are wonderful parents and your son, Kelly, was so blessed. His light is shining down on the both of you. May the outpouring of sympathy, the kind acts of friends and strangers and the comfort in knowing that your loss is felt by many, help you through this difficult time. My first grader, Suzy, still talks about playing "musical challenge," with Kelly and Katie, just 2 weeks ago, and how much fun she had. Kelly was an incredibly kind and thoughtful person.

Kelly was an amazing friend to my daughter Kylie. I had met Kelly a few times always a gentleman with the best smile. My deepest condolences go out to the family and everyone that has been touched by Kelly's big beautiful heart. ■■ ■■

Watched Kelly's funeral services on zoom meeting (so did many others.) It was an exceptional funeral. Katie and James, your tributes were so thought felt and loving. What a touching funeral. I loved it when his friend Gavin, said he was a fearless soul and that he had no idea Kelly had touched so many hearts! The stocking caps his friends had made with "KG" on it for Kelly Glaubensklee were cool. You did so many "fun" things as a family. What great memories. Kelly's viewing was really nice also. We loved all the great videos that were shown, seeing his football helmet, his Crocs, and Suzy loved his "championship photos." Wow, Kelly was a very talented athlete; water skiing, football, wrestling, and he could even do a back flip! The number of people there to pay tribute and support Kelly and the Glaubensklee family was unbelievable. Loving our children takes many forms, such as tending to their physical and emotional needs, providing a stable and secure family environment, showing affection, respecting their individual personalities, taking a genuine interest in their lives, talking about things that matter, and affirming their efforts and achievements.
