

LaJuana Jean DeAngeles Williams

August 8, 1930 ~ December 10, 2024

Quin and I love LuJuana. I was her visiting teacher and Quin was her bishop. The last time we spoke, she was eager to be with her sweetheart, Don. We are comforted to know she has realized her dreams. I can’t imagine what it was like to be rid of those painful knees and to experience clarity of mind as she ran to meet Don and her son. We will see you again in the not so distant future.
