

Lee Rasmussen

December 5, 1939 ~ February 5, 2024

My sad condolences on the loss of this great man. He served his Church as a Bishop, when I knew him... and served his country as an agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. His door, and his ear, and his heart was always open. He was a great listener, and the giver of well thought out advice. My heart goes out to the Rasmussen family at this time. They've lost a Father, Grandfather, and husband. I, along with the rest of the members of the Denton 2nd Ward for whom Lee served as a Bishop, remember him with great fondness, and respect. May he dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Marlene and Family, Lee will be greatly missed in our neighborhood and in so many lives. He was a tremendous influence for our son in Little League Football, and to many other youths throughout his life both in sports and in church. Prayers to all of you, for he was a very special and talented man. As you go on without his present, know he will always be with you in spirit. We are here if ever you need anything.

- Doug and Barbara Roberts

Oh my sweet Marlene! I was definitely taken aback when I heard that your sweet husband Lee passed away. I hope and pray for your peace and comfort and that you and your children will feel my love! You're awesome!

For many years Lee dedicated countless volunteer hours to the benefit of Utah anglers and our fisheries. Serving on the Blue Ribbon Fisheries Advisory Council, Lee played an important role in helping to shape and improve sportfishing opportunities across the state. Lee's connections with DWR and the fishing community at large made him invaluable as the club's Speaking Engagement Coordinator. As a result of the pandemic, club membership reached a critical low and was almost disbanded. Lee helped us draw in new members by lining up amazing speakers for our club meetings from across Utah. He was a good fisherman, a good fishing buddy and a friend to every angler that ever dipped a hook it Utah waters. He will be missed.

- Mike Badger (RMA Club President)

My deepest sympathy for you, Marlene, and your family. Lee was a good friend, classmate and teammate of mine at MHS. I knew you both well in those days but, as you know, we have only had brief contact through the years. What I have learned and felt from reading about him and watching the video makes me even more impressed with Lee and you and the family you have established. I pray for your comfort as you grieve your separation.

I knew Lee through Rocky Mountain Anglers, served with him on the Blue Ribbon Fisheries Advisory Council, and we fished together a time or two. He acquired a wealth of unique knowledge and experience in his life, and I really appreciated our conversations. He was always willing to take on a task, offer a hand, share an idea, lend encouragement or call bulls--t where it was needed. Utah's angling community is far, far better off because Lee chose to get involved. Those of us who knew him appreciate how generously he contributed over the years. My condolences to the family. I know this loss leaves a huge hole in your hearts.

I am sorry I missed the announcement of Lee’s passing until today. It was my privilege to also serve in Los Angeles with Lee and to witness his excellence as both an FBI agent and as a person. I also enjoyed our monthly encounters at the X-agents meetings here in Salt Lake City. Please accept my deepest condolences on your temporary loss, for I have a strong belief that you two will be together again.

Dear Marlene, I'm so sorry to hear about Lee's passing. The video of his life is wonderful. There is so much love in those photos and great memories for you and the whole family. I was especially impressed with how many pictures there were of him with your grandchildren. He accomplished so very much in his life, which is a good example to all of us to keep changing and adapting and learning. Love and hugs to you and your family.
