I will miss Marilyn each and every day. She was like another sister of mine. We were like two peas in a pod. Until we meet in Heaven, we will be together in my heart. Love you and miss you.

Marilyn, my "big sister," Thank you for being kind to me all of my life. Thank you for being real. Thank you for your impeccable ethics and for following your conscience when it came to right and wrong. You had an understanding of Christ's unconditional love, whether you knew it or not, for you never could justify doing anything hurtful, harmful, hateful or wrong, especially to minorities, the meek or those without a voice, even if people, at times, acted negatively towards you. I noticed and watched your authenticity as a sister growing up. Even though I was 10 years younger, I looked up to your unwavering compassion for "the underdog." I love you. I'll miss you. One doesn't meet people like you every day.

I have always looked up to Marilyn. We have shared so many fun times together. I would love to visit her in SFO. She was very easy to be around and she had a great sense of humor. She loved animals, her dogs meant so much to her. Her mild manner, honesty, generosity and authenticity were just a few traits I admired. I will miss her very much. She holds a big place in my heart.

Dear family, I can’t believe how fast this life on earth goes by. The only comfort comes knowing we will all be together before we know it. And forever…… I love Gods plan and His love He has for us to let us be an eternal family. Marilyn, I’m happy for your new adventure and life to be home again in your families open arms. We love and miss you, but for a short time.

Well girl-----you were my best girlfriend and I miss you. At least 40 years of friendship and even after your departure to Utah after years in San Francisco as my neighbor, we shared many cocktails, parties, dinners, jigsaw puzzle days, the Blue Angels every year during Fleet Week, our special dinners when we would meet the Brown Twins at dinner at Scala's restaurant when they would sit at our table, the Cypress Club and our best place was our table number 40 at the Top of the Mark in the Mark Hopkins for cocktails before heading out for dinner somewhere wonderful. I miss cooking dinners for you and the many times we had together. We age, we grow apart for many situations and those who remain behind plod on until their time comes. I know we will meet again along with our old friends and families. Heaven is lucky to have you and your wonderful laugh and spirit. I always remember you and miss you.
