Kirsti and Vern: So sorry to hear of your loss. Our thoughts and prayers are with your family. I am sure words alone cannot fill the void in your life.

- Cal and Susan Sprik

Mark was a kind and knowledgeable co-worker. He was always willing to help when anyone had a question. He was a team player who valued the success of everyone. With his loss the world is a bit darker. His memory is a small light. My prayers are with you during this difficult time.

Sending virtual hugs to the whole family. I have such fond memories of Mark when he was my early morning seminary teacher. Those scripture chase challenges always got a little crazy when he would get involved. Later on we had a great time playing guitar, riding on the pontoon boat, and having some serious DDR sessions on the X-box and Mario Kart races. Kind words of encouragement were his way. He was a real friend and someone who is already missed.

Our hearts are heavy for our beloved Parmley family. May you be comforted at this time and throughout the years.

Mark was one of my closest friends at BYU-I. He taught me how to rock climb. I remember the first time we climbed together. He explained the safety equipment and how to rock climb. He made it sound so simple and like I could do anything. When I approached the rock face and looked up, I couldn't see where to put my hands and feet. I couldn't see step one, let alone the path I needed to take to reach the top. All I saw was a flat, vertical rock wall. Mark was so positive and so patient with me as he coached me. Over time, Mark taught me to climb. He taught me how to see the path to the top. But that was Mark. That's who he was. Through his contagious optimism and genuine kindness, he showed us how to see the path. Through the light that he shone, he helped us all reach the top. I have faith that Mark is just as busy as he always was, still encouraging others on and helping others see the path. He's just not doing it in the same way. I love you buddy!

Our dear Kirst and Vern, and Sonja, Erica and Mika - and family who we know adored Mark, Our hearts are heavy for you today as a family you visit this milestone for Mark too many years too soon. We are with you in spirit and send our love and prayers to you. We love your family. We love your Mark. Although we may not be able to take away your sorrow, while we sorrow for you, we know there is One who can. Thank you for sharing such a wonderful picture of Mark as he reached a new height and stood so pleased with his accomplishment and full of joy. Love and healing to you all. The DeMille's

I have such a high opinion of Mark. I was a his bishop at BYU-I for a few years and I truly loved this young man. He was an inspiration to many, a man of very high character that everyone around him loved. He was the consummate student, room mate and friend. He was exact in all that he did. He fulfilled callings perfectly and treated everyone as an equal. If there was a member of the ward that was struggling with anything he would take it upon himself to befriend the individual, he truly cared about others. I think of Mark often and wish I could have stayed in touch with him. I will miss him, and I will always remember him for the kind, gentle and considerate good man that he was and is. Condolences to his family. Craig Carter

The news of Marks passing hit many of us old Puyallup friends the same, shock and heartache for your beloved family and the loss we know you're feeling. Mark surely was a part of my youth and that loss is felt greatly. We were only a few weeks apart in age, so we had church class and activities together through our youth. I remember him being more reserved, but also in times of play you would see more of a silly side to Mark. After HS I attended Pierce College and really the memory I think of when I think back on that time was with Mark. I was struggling with anxiety and depression and had a hard time wanting to attend class. Mark happened to be in my Lit class. I wish he knew, well, I know he knows now, how much it meant to have his friendly, familiar face sitting right behind me in a place I wasn't wanting to be. The chats we would have before and after class were priceless at a time of great challenge for me. Brother and Sister Parmley, you raised an amazing son who is off helping many more like us. Time has not diminished the impact Mark and the rest of your beautiful family had on us growing up. May the gospel give you all the peace you need as you mourn him. Much love, Tarah Corrales-King- Ridgecrest Ward

Sonja and Family I was devastated to learn about Mark's passing. I had only met him once at your house for a Christmas EVE. I had such a pleasant conversation with him. My deepest sympathy to your entire family, including your mom and dad.

Our deepest condolences to the Parmley family. We are so very sorry for your loss. We would have liked to meet Mark and the whole family last summer here in Finland; we really had been looking forward to the reunion for all the cousins, and the second cousins. But the covid-19 postponed it for the future. When we last met Mark he was a little boy. Your family had traveled to Finland from Germany, and we were spending time together at the summer cottage by the Gulf of Finland. We remember Mark from his enthusiastic screams "I am hyper active" when he was running and exploring the wild nature and playing with the wooden toy sailing boats. He really showed to be a nature lover already at young age. A true half Finn. Marjo and Tom

Mark was such an incredibly kind and supportive person. I will always consider myself lucky to have known him. He had an incredible spirit and my heart is heavy knowing that he is no longer with us. My deepest condolences to the family. I'm so so sorry for your loss. I'm taking comfort in the fact that he climbed all of the highest Utah mountains. He fulfilled that goal of his, he was done.
