

Melvin Clay Pendleton

January 6, 1954 ~ November 21, 2021

We were so sad to hear of Clay's passing. We will remember him for his easy smile and kindness. Our thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. Love Kate and Paul

- Kate Sneddon-Boyden

It is with a heavy heart that I write this note. Today I learned, from Facebook, that Clay is now in the loving arms of his Mum & Dad. I honestly believed he would win his battle with the big C. I had the great pleasure of becoming his friend when we meet on Ancestry as a DNA match. My grandfather George William James Warren 1858 - 1932 was the brother to Walter James Warren 1861 - 1923. This memorial page is beautifully done celebrating Clay's wonderful life. My sincere condolences to Ida, Adam, Matthew and the numerous relatives and friends he was closely connected to. My brother George and sister Vivian join me in celebration Clay's wonderful life. I will join the Zoom service - hopefully I will be able to get on to it. Hugs to each one of you. Cousin Jayne in Mississauga, Canada

- Jayne Warren Clayton

Sorry to hear that Clay has died. Looks like he lived a full and honest life and what more could you expect from a Warren descendant. My condolences to the family. His greatgrandfather and my greatgrandfather, Frederick Henry, were brothers. I still live near Northampton where they were born.

- Gillian Parris

My condolences to Clay's family. I only knew him for a short time, but he was always kind to me.

- Brett Armstrong