Phil, we are so terribly sorry for the loss of your daughter and the pain your family is enduring as the result of this unspeakable accident. We pray that you and your family will be granted strength and peace in the days to come. I will never forget the kindness and patience you and Ernie showed me all those years ago as I was learning the ropes as a young paralegal. I became proficient at my job in part because of you two! Our hearts are with you at this terrible time. Love and light, Gene and Jan Chase Tabish

This is truly the hardest thing I have written. They say words can never express the extreme sadness that takes over your body and the hole that is left in your heart when you lose a loved one. I have experienced that yesterday when I received news that my friend of 27 years and sister in law of 14 years, was killed in a head on collision with her love, in a senseless act of road rage. They were innocence driving on the opposite side of the road enjoying a Sunday drive together. I know she would want me to have no anger, but that is so hard to do. She called me her SisterFriend. We went through tough times together, helped each other out when it was needed, had each other's back, and laughed endlessly together. She loved fearlessly, and protected those she cared for. I take solace in knowing she was with the man that gave her the happiness she deserved and they are together. No one deserves to have their life taken because of a moment of rage. Always my sister friend Misha! I love you to the stars.

I taught her in Collage where we connected after many years. She shared her family story and I knew it well as I was her Mother's labor and delivery nurse when they were born and we figured it out when she was in my class as a Nursing student. I'm so glad that her sister called to tell me of her passing. I'm so sorry that I had forgotten but glad for the memories and so appreciate her calling me to let me know. I'm sad to hear of her passing in such a sad event. But so glad for the memories I have of her and the family. Thank you for the phone call. I have dear thoughts of her and your family. Sincerely, "jo"
