

Orville Jay Hendrickson (OJ)

October 29, 1924 ~ June 24, 2024

A great Old school gentleman and a mentor to me. I have many "OJisms" in my vernacular as we all do. A great man, father and uncle to each of us. My sincere condolences to all who knew and loved the great OJ.

Unfortunately, I only knew OJ for a couple of his latter years, more than a decade ago. When I first met him, I spent several hours together talking. He struck me as genuine, candid, honest, trustworthy, compassionate and substantial. I had the great pleasure of representing him in the sale of nearly a dozen units in a development he was involved in - Valley Centre subdivision, Driggs, Idaho. I have always been grateful for the opportunity to know him and represent him. He left a long lasting impression. I regret I did not hear about the time of his death early enough that I could have attended his funeral. My wife Julie and I were talking about him, and our fond experiences together, this evening, August 4th 2024, which caused me to go online and research that which I found. In memory of his kindness and wisdom, may his resilient nature live on forever, wishing it could be passed on to the masses as they would all benefit. With great respect, Mark Rockefeller 2410
