I absolutely loved Mrs. Taylor!! She was my third grade teacher and she treated me with such kindness and love and always made me feel special!! She has the same first name as my mom so I loved her even more!! She was an amazing teacher and taught with such love and kindness and I learned so much from her!! I hope my mom and Mrs. Taylor got to see each other. It is crazy to think that my mom passed August 13 and she followed right behind not long after!! I hope they are both saying hi to each other in heaven and giving each other a big hug!! Love you Mrs. Taylor■■■ Love, your third-grade student! Melissa Jackson■

Dear Sherril, please accept our love and sincere condolences to you and your family. We are deeply saddened at the passing of such a wonderful woman. We will always remember the special times that we had together with you and her. Pat has always been an inspiration and a great example of love, compassion and tenderness. We are sure that her service to the Lord and her faithfulness have ensured her a beautiful mansion on high. While we morn her loss to us here on this earth, we will look forward to seeing her again. May God bless you and your family.

Mrs. Taylor was my 3rd grade teacher at Draper Elementary. She was an amazing teacher, so thoughtful, and really helped me enjoy the difficult things like multiplication and cursive. I always attribute going in to education and being a teacher myself, to Mrs. Taylor. Rest In Peace Mrs. Taylor!

Pat and I were friends throughout our grade school years and high school. We were roommates at Snow College. She was kind considerate and fun loving. I loved her to pieces! We got engaged the same day. Last few years we've kept track of each other through cards and letters. I will miss her. My sincerest sympathy to her family.

It was a gift to me to meet Pat while she and I served in the Jordan River Temple and the Draper Temple. She was and still is beautiful! She always looked sharp and dressed very well. She had many health problems but did not complain. I couldn't believe that she served as the ward Relief Society president for a long time while she didn't feel well and didn't let anyone know how sick she was! She was serving others at a time when she should have received the service herself! All of ius who were privileged to serve with her in the temple, knew that if there was a new bride or sister patron who was blessed enough to have Pat assigned to her as her guide, the patron was very blessed! Pat would take them by the hand and nestle into their side a bit and they knew that they were welcome and loved! Pat would rub the top of their hands as they walked. She was a wonderful representative of our Savior, Jesus Christ. Because of her poor health, she was unable to serve these past few years in the temple. I can still feel her spirit even though I haven't seen her for quite awhile. I must add, however, that without Sherril supporting her, cooking their meals and helping her all along the way, Pat couldn't have done all that she did. Both of them are amazing, beautiful Christlike people. It is my gift along with that of my husband, Jim, to know and be eternal friends witih the Taylors! We love you!
