

Ray Walter Lambert

May 14, 1936 ~ December 22, 2020

So sorry to hear about Ray. I don't remember if David and I properly thanked you both for helping support him on his mission. That was very generous of you.

So sorry for your loss. I have fond memories of many activities with the Lambert family during my youth in the late 70's and early 80's. May the knowledge of the gospel and the comfort of the Lord bring you peace at this time.

Ray didn't know it but he was one of my favorite people that I wanted to be more like.. I will miss him. I wish I could have spent a little more time with him recently. I missed those times we played golf as he subtly quizzed me to see if me and my family were doing alright and the shared a little father's wisdom to keep me on track. Usually the advise was very applicable and nudged me the right way and did not offend because it felt delivered with love and freindship. Rich Tygerson

JUST FOUND OUT ABOUT BR. LAMBERT'S PASSING THIS MORNING. I'M SORRY I MISSED THE SERVICES, I WOULD'VE LIKED TO SEEN YOU ALL. SO SORRY, LOSING SOMEONE SPECIAL IS HARD EVEN WHEN EXPECTED.

Dear Marilyn and Lambert Family, Ray is beloved and will be missed by all who know him--myself included. Just want to tell a little "Ray" story. Surely you will receive many because of how caring and helpful he loves to be. He kindly agreed to give a presentation at our Relief Society weekday meeting on budgeting. One thing he mentioned was his skill at grocery shopping. I decided I could use some improvement there and asked if he would share the specials he found. Well, he regularly sent me the weekly deals. And, although I could not maintain his diligence--I was so touched that he would do this. Another time I was having a very difficult day--well, it was more than a difficult Sunday--I was going through a very difficult time. I was feeling it that Sunday morning--though hoping it would not show because it was not something I wanted to talk about. Ray came up to me and asked if everything was O.K. It really surprised me. How could he tell? What should I say, not wanting to talk. I don't remember my response. Something to appreciate that he cared, and that I'd be O.K. But I appreciated his caring more than I knew how to articulate. Ray's ministering heart was always on. Guess that is something the he and Marilyn share. Thank you, Marilyn and Ray. I feel blessed by your friendship, as does Rich. Laurie Tygerson

We miss our beloved brother, Ray Lambert. I had the opportunity to get to know him well over the years. I enjoyed reading his freshly finished autobiography a couple of months ago and was impressed and amazed that he accomplished so much in his life because of his faith, discipline, and diligence. He was self-reliant from his early school years to the last few months of his life. He had a wonderful wife, children, children-in-law, and grandchildren. He loved us all, young and old. He performed his callings to the best of his ability and successfully reached out to many youth and adults. He and Marilyn cared for his seasonal and very productive vegetable garden and beautiful rose garden until he could not walk easily during the spring of this year. That gardening efforts reflect what Ray did for all God's children in the way he cared for family and friends. We love Ray and miss Ray!

I just learned of Ray's passing. I used to work with Ray at EPRI. He was a great guy. When I first met him he introduced himself as a member of the "Bob and Ray" show (Bob Williams and Ray Lambert that is, not the other show). He worked in a very complicated part of the nuclear energy business, at the crossroads of politics, policy, and technology. He taught me a lot, and I was very grateful for that. Ray was one of the most respected scientist in the field, and always exceedingly personable and great to work with. I wish to extend my heartfelt condolences to the family. He will be remembered. I am so sorry to see this. I did not see this until now. I am sending prayers and hugs. So, so sorry.
