

Ryan Jeffrey Green

March 7, 1975 ~ April 12, 2022

I had the honor of serving with Ryan on the mighty Shoup in Everett. His work as Chief Engineer was vital to many successes the ship enjoyed during his tour. He worked tirelessly and took care of his people. I was proud to serve with him and my heart is heavy to hear of his passing. My prayers and condolences go out to Erika and Thomas.

Ryan and I were shipmates from 2005-2007 at Afloat Training Group Atlantic. A great friend and co worker he was truly a larger than life personality. I'm shocked and so very sorry to loose Ryan. My thoughts and prayers go out to all of Ryan's family.

- Rich Sessoms

I am so sorry for your loss. Ryan was my colleague at UW and one of the two people that hired me actually. He was and will continue to be an inspiration to those of us who worked with him. We will keep him and you all in our thoughts.

- Justin Hart

Ryan, It was great meeting a like minded individual, and being able to talk freely about anything and everything with you. You are a good dude and you will be missed but will never be forgotten.

I recently worked with Ryan at the University of Washington and I had nothing but respect for him. He had a terrific work ethic, was a leader with integrity and stood up for what he thought was right. I'll miss chatting with him about the Navy, refereeing football, sharing stories about working from home and how we see the world changing around us. He was a great guy and I'll miss him.

I had the pleasure of meeting Ryan while he was stationed at Naval Base Everett and we quickly became great friends. He was a blessing in my life and I am lucky to have so many, many memories of our friendship over the last 25 years. My condolences to Erika, Thomas and the entire Green family.

- Ann M Beauchamp

I remember Ryan being a kid I looked up to at Cucamonga JR. High School. He was always smiling or laughing. I was not one of the cooler kids in those days, but he was still cool with me.

Ryan was an amazing NBUA brother of mine, and I miss him. I miss his straight up no nonsense approach. I knew he had my back no matter what. I miss his huge smile and mischievous humor. I looked forward to every game I did with him. He made me better. He was a warm, joyous, sincere soul, and i will remember him fondly. My condolences especially to his family.

Ryan and I were bus buddies for many months while he worked with UW Information Management at the UW Tower in Seattle. I enjoyed our talks so early in the morning and interacting with him in our offices. Occasionally, we'd brave traffic together when I'd drive him home after work. He was funny and brilliant and a wonderful person. I send my love and prayers of peace to his family. Know that you are not grieving alone.

I knew Ryan the past few years as a partner on the baseball diamond officiating. I got to know the man he is off the field in our pregame and post game discussions. I saw a man that wanted to do the right thing morally , not just in the rule book. He stood up for Justice and spoke up and questioned chaos and I know that carried over into his personal life. Ryan was a man that if I could have a handful of men in my lifeboat he would be one of them because I knew he would always do the right thing and take it his actions to heart. I will miss him and the everlasting gift he gives me is to take that step to know another person on a deeper level and to never take this precious life for granted.

Stunned, as with all of the umpires that worked with Ryan. I loved listening to Ryan tell stories of his experience as Chief Engineer/ Lt. Commander, and we shared several laughs over his reminder about how classic submariner roasts can be timeless -- haha. (YKWIM) A great loss, and we will forever remember Ryan.

I got to know Ryan over the last several years by working football games with him through PNFOA. I was fortunate to have worked several games with him this past football season and was always impressed by his dedication and demeanor on the football field. It was clear to me that Ryan was a man of integrity and I enjoyed and appreciated the chance to get to know him. He strove not only to improve, but to make those around him better, and I will miss everything he brought to our organization. Rest easy, my friend.

My only experience working with Ryan was football games last year. Since I was new to the organization, Ryan was very helpful to show me how to get better. He was very kind and approachable when I had issues either before or after our games. I'm very sorry for the Green family's loss. RIP Ryan.

Ryan and I joined NBUA at the same time and immediately became great friends. Possibly even more important, we loved working games together. We always celebrated when we saw on our schedule that we had an upcoming game(s). He referred to me as "old man" and I LOVED it. My heart is broken, I will miss him so much, he truly was a great guy. He will never be replaced in my head and my heart.

I was stunned and deeply saddened by this news. I was barely able to pull myself together and umpire a game the day I learned of his passing. I was Ryan's mentor in both baseball and football officiating. We spoke almost weekly; texted or emailed more often than that. In training Ryan arrived at least 30 minutes before the next earliest person and always helped me set up the room and prepare for the class. He had such enthusiasm for any topic. Our last game together was umpiring a baseball game at the Mariner's stadium. It was one of the best games either of us had ever been involved in – I'm so glad we have pictures of our crew that day. I miss him immensely; I wish I knew the words to bring comfort to his family and friends.

Ryan was a brother on the baseball field and just a great story teller in the parking lot before and after. I enjoyed working games with him and sharing tales. He seemed a bit larger than life and I thought I would have more time to get to know him. I still owe him a plate.

Please accept my sincere condolences for your enormous loss. I was privileged to work with Ryan for several months just before the pandemic hit, and was able to work with him in person and get a glimpse of his professional work ethic as well as his warm and humorous personality. He was always serious and focused in many, many meetings in those days but was able to distill the essence of the issues with positive attitude and humor. He often chatted about his passion for sports, pride in his family and fun hobbies he and his wife shared, like ordering international snacks to explore offerings from various countries. I will remember Ryan as a bright and positive person I was lucky to cross paths with. He will be missed in the University of Washington community. Sincerely,
