What a great sadness. Ms. Clark was my high school English teacher and friend. I acted as an aide to her for another two years because her company was THE BEST. [Class of 1992] She was an incredible mentor, a truly gifted and passionate teacher, and a wonderful human being. I have missed her presence over the years and thought of her often. But she has been with me all this time in the form of exquisite knowledge of grammar, literature, and kindness. Much love, Cluck.
