I have so many great memories of you. You were a beautiful, happy baby. As a boy liked to take things apart and rebuild them, well I guess you never grew out of that. The man you grew up to be had a great laugh (my favorite). You had an extensive knowledge of trivia that was fun and amazing to me. I loved that we could have easy conversation we both like Science Fiction much of the same music and learn from each other. You will be missed my dear boy!!
