

Shannon Patrick Flynn

December 27, 1957 ~ October 28, 2021

Dear Robyn and family, everything is happening so fast! How do we say goodbye to your best friend? I miss him so very much! The idea of not having him around to talk, to learn, to think, to explore is very difficult to Ana and I; I can only imagine how all of you are feeling. Shannon will forever be my best friend, a void in my heart that will stay for as long as I live. You are not alone, you will never be alone. For now we find comfort the day will come when we will enjoy his friendship once again.

- Henrique M De Agostini

Dear Erin and Flynn family, I was saddened to read of Shannon's passing. He was a friend of mine from our youth days in Taylorsville and also school mates at Cottonwood High . He was such a character and made me laugh on many occasions. I am thankful for the wonderful memories I have of him. May your memories of this wonderful man, husband, brother, father, and grandpa bring you peace and comfort in the days ahead. With Love, Leslie Brown Boisselle

- Leslie Brown Boisselle

Bless you for your faith and endurance. Rest In Peace Shannon, and may God bless your family.

- Glenn Rowe

What a beautiful tribute to Shannon today. Robyn, we continue to keep you and your family in our thoughts and prayers. Scott and Laura Welch

- Scott and Laura Welch

To Shannon's family. I'm sorry but I need to use an automatic translator because I'm Italian. We do not know each other, but I have just finished watching the documentary "Murder Among the Mormons" and the expressive force of the emotional range expressed by your beloved Shannon prompted me to search for information about him. You could see how much he suffered in recounting those events and how important it was for him to speak about them with clarity and depth, shamelessly showing how deeply he was still shaken. I needed to listen to some passages of his interview several times and after hearing them in Italian I wanted to hear them in English to understand what he was really feeling. From his hoarse voice I understood that something was wrong with his lungs and I had confirmation by reading the obituary. With humility and delicacy, respecting your religion and looking for terms that can help you understand the human closeness I feel for him and you, I tell you that I am a Christian priest and that my prayers of tomorrow will be for him and for you. The creed of each of us has differences, but in prayer we have the possibility to find common ground to recommend to God a person with a sensitive and sincere heart who has sought him in Sacred Scripture with the means he had, facing and overcoming the suffering that has disturbed his life. I hope you understand the goodness of my intentions and the feeling of human fraternity with which I am writing to you. Shannon's story resonates in my heart, and the pathos he transmitted is an image of his inner beauty. I'll pray for him. May relief come to you from faith, our common vital element. Fr Giulio.

- Fr. Giulio Marcone

So very sorry for your loss. I never met your father in person, but something about him, watching him on TV, he lit up when he was speaking. So brightly, and I cannot put to words but I just knew immediately this man was an angel on earth. I needed to find out more about him, and was greatly saddened to see he had left this earth. I cannot imagine your loss, for if this man touched me in just a few brief hours, what a gift he was to you all in his lifetime. God bless him and keep him safe.

- Lillian Prahovic