Good friend & litterateur. Sorry for the suffering--before now.

Steve, was a remarkable person and a dear friend. He inspired me to learn, to be curious and to appreciate the insights that this world and intellect had to offer. I will miss you Steve.

I was so sorry to see this obituary. Since our retirements, Steven and I had lost contact, but he remains a significant person in my life. I tried to log in for the funeral but couldn't get beyond the password. Please know that your brother, uncle, and friend was appreciated and respected by so very many of us.

I met Steve in Cambridge and rode in the yellow Porsche twice! We returned to Utah at the same time and were part of a new regional YSI program. He was Sunday School president, and he somehow got me called as Relief Society president. We also met with a group every Sunday night to watch “Upstairs, Downstairs” on Masterpiece Theatre! I was surprised to see myself in one of the video photos with Steve. The way he looks in that photo is how I’ll always remember him.
