Greg, I am sad to read about your mom passing. I know you all got together as often as you could living here and them in california. Great memories., great trips. Your family is in my prayers.

May God heal the loss with the good memories. Much love ■Karen Markowski

Susan is a dear friend and I miss her very much. Living in the same building, both transplants to Salt Lake City from California and attending the same ward, we had much in common — in addition to our first names. Being around her always made me happy. I enjoyed learning about her family, her many travels, and got to see some of her beautiful knitted creations. I hope she knows how much I appreciated her friendship.
