Words are puny and cannot express your sorrow nor the sorrow that I feel for your loss. There will be no replacing your sweet Verona. I feel your pain. When I lost my husband Bill I was devestated and couldn't function properly. One year after his passing he wrote this song to me through me. I hope you receive some comfort in the lyric as I have through my many years without him. We must remember that there is a very thin veil that seperates us. Light A Candle For Me light a candle for me I will be there for you life is not what it seems depends on your point of view. I never really left you though it seems like I am gone so I'll try to talk to you best as I can in this song love never dies only dreaming flesh will pass your soul comes home. It's all right where it's suppose to be and before you know you'll be here with me. I will always love you please don't cry life is short no goodbye live your life full life's a blessing you're in school and not through testing light a candle for me.

Verona helped shape my life when I was just out of high school. Working for the Lewis family is one of my fondest memories. I loved when she came to the office and all the stories she'd share about taking care of her mom and her family. She made me feel like family. I still consider myself a Lewis at heart. I'm sad to hear of her passing. But am happy to know she is doing a lot of good where she is. Lots of love and hugs to Kent, Shelly and all the Lewis family. Love you all so much. ❤■

I remember meeting Verona over 20 years ago, and I always looked forward to seeing her bright smile, and we always made each other laugh. She was always so witty and kind to me, and I was blessed to know her, such an Incredible genuine big hearted lady. God Bless.

I knew Verona for many years. I gained her as my insurance agent when I turned 25. I spoke with her often, especially when I was young, as I often was speeding and my rates would jump up. She always had some wisdom to share with me that helped me keep my insurance premiums low. Verona became like a second grandmother to me. She was so kind, sweet and caring. I'm blessed to have had her in my life as an excellent example of friendship and compassion. I will never forget her voice, so thankful for her and her family. May god continue to bless her and her entire family. Love you all.
