

Wendell Clinton Day

July 11, 1939 ~ July 10, 2021

I was very saddened to learn of Clint's passing. My wife Elizabeth was instrumental in introducing Clint and Janet to each other many years ago. Elizabeth also passed away two years ago this week from Alzheimer's disease. I send my love to Janet and to the entire family. May you feel peace and hope. May your memories of Clint be filled with love and gratitude. Warmly, Steve Hedquist

We have many treasured memories with Clint and Janet and their family. Clint was a loyal and dear friend, with a brilliant mind, many musical talents, and great faith and sensitivity. We are deeply grateful for his influence and blessing in our lives, and we send our love and sympathy to Janet and all his family.

Love this man. So sorry to hear of his passing. He once shared with me the tender that spoke to me of Clint, a story of how he stood silently on the back porch extending his finger to a small bird, until trusting him it lit upon his finger. I think he would have had a special understanding of this song and who it's about. To the memory of Lela and Mark Benson, loyal and beloved friends to many including me Little Bird i Little bird So light and bright On summer’s air Your dream has almost come to pass, Your life to share ii Who has turned the corner on a sparrow And could not solve the riddle of the stillness Is my sister and my brother, Of the sap and the spirit of the happy boy in Israel iii Little Bird, Little Bird light and bright It was a cold day A sad and a beautiful cold Spring day in Israel So be sad Be sad when you’re sad in Israel There will be time enough for us all to be glad Little Bird Isaiah Jones © July 26, 2021

Clint had a tremendous influence in our lives!! He saw potential in us that we didn't know we had. He trained us to be tour guides and let us go on tours as assistant tour guides at no cost. He let us go as tour guides to Palmira,NY and surrounding areas. Needless to say it was life changing. He and Janet visited our home in Idaho and we were thrilled!! We both loved Clint very much!!
