What a beautiful tribute to a wonderful man and his adventurous life! What a blessing to have known him. He will certainly be missed. Many hugs and prayers to you all as you move into this new phase of your lives here without his physical presence. I am sure he won't be far.

- Susan Barnes

Our love and condolences are extended to all who knew George but especially his family who I know will be missing him in a way that no words can describe. The world is a lesser place without his presence but I am a better man for having known George, felt his warmth, and seen his lust for life. Meeting George made me want to be a better man myself, a better husband and as good a Dad as I could be. A fine example of what a true gentleman looks like and how we should behave. I know you will all miss him dearly but I know his legacy will live long.

- Phil Greenaway

We have loved and admired Shirley and George for decades and though they moved out of the area, we have been able to keep up with parts of your life by the internet. George always had a smile on his face and arm around loved ones. He was special! Just hours before he clicked he was following me and what an absolute shock to learn he had passed. Our deepest sympathy to Shirley and their family at this time. He will be remembered forever. Jerry and Mary Ann Huisken

We can’t express how much George meant to our family. We will remember George in so many positive ways, with a big smile and a great sense of humour. Nobody could write an email or letter like George. We are sure he is up there now playing soccer with loved ones and retelling stories. We will cherish the memories and fun times spent with him. All our love goes out to Shirley and the rest of the family. Marc, Sarah, Jack and Layla x

To Shirley and family: Our hearts are heavy with sadness to hear of George’s sudden passing, as it seems like only yesterday we were messaging and recalling times in Huntington Beach with friends. George had so many, as did Shirley. A warm, fun and loving couple that had you in laughs at George’s quips here and there. Never saw a frown on his face, always a smile for everyone, never crossed a hallway or path without saying hello. I can imagine George as the “pearly gates greeter” - an arm extended to give you a warm hug, a smile on his face to greet you, and a cheery welcome as he walked the path with you. You will be missed by many.

- Steve and Julianna Sheldrake

George and Shirley are two of our favorite people! They were more than just neighborhood friends, they were a light in our lives. George was always gracious and quick-witted. I was blessed to be welcomed into their home at least monthly to feel of their love and caring. As a fellow Ute fan, we relished discussing the latest game. Heaven is a better place now that he is there. The hole left in our earthly lives simply postpones for a season the immense joy we will feel when we again are reunited. Shirley, Janean and I are praying for you and your family. Phil Johnsen
