Jami Williams Barton

March 17, 1976 ~ December 26, 2013

Jami Williams Barton passed away peacefully on Thursday, December 26, 2013 and returned to her Heavenly Father.

Jami was a beloved mother, wife, daughter, granddaughter, sister, niece, aunt, cousin and friend. Family meant everything to Jami and she taught us all how to laugh regardless of any situation, love one another and always be there for each other. She served faithfully in many church responsibilities including loving service as Young Women's President. Jami endured faithfully through eight years of illness - eternally influencing her children while being a loving companion to her husband. By her example, everyone around her learned endless sacrifice, kindness, patience, faith, love, and selfless service.

Jami was born March 17, 1976 and grew up in Salt Lake City, Northern California and Washington. After graduating from Woodinville High School near Seattle she completed a degree in elementary education from the University of Utah, showing great talent for teaching both children and adults.

Jami is survived by her devoted and loving husband Carl Barton, three children Elli, Nicole, and Ben, parents Jerry and Ann Williams, sister Allison (Eric) Zollinger, two brothers Eric (Katie) Williams and Mike (Joy) Williams and grandparents Frank and Nadine Davis and Veirl and Louise Williams.
