Brady Darrell Josephs was born in Salt Lake City, Utah. He went to high school in South Jordan and graduated from Riverton High School. He graduated from Utah Valley University with a bachelor's degree in Emergency Preparedness. He was a trained and certified EMT. He went on a mission to Cape May, New Jersey for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Brady was also a talented electrician and frequently helped friends, family and neighbors with any electrical project. He loved riding dirt bikes, playing golf, playing basketball and, of course, watching The Utah Jazz. Brady kept his family and friends entertained with his funny personality and his ability to tell a good story. Brady had a strong connection to his family in New Zealand and loved learning and celebrating his ancestry and culture. He loved playing chess with his father. He adored his nieces and nephews and loved spending time with them.

Brady is survived by his mother, Carol Josephs, and by his siblings, Rachel (David), Andy (Kellie), Sydney (Derek), and also by his nieces and nephews. They are CoCo and Chile; Jackson and Louise. Brady is now reunited with his father, and best friend, Wally Josephs. To our beloved son, brother and friend, we say ka kite ano. Arohanui until we meet again.
