She had earned her Associates degree in Applied Science in Nursing from Lincoln Land Community College in 1974 and received her license as a Registered Nurse. For the next forty years she pursued her dream of helping others in need of assistance with a variety of different areas of healthcare, but her greatest joy was being a hospice nurse for over 20 of those years. She eased the passing of countless people as they came to the end of their lives, ensuring their comfort and dignity. However, each was more than a patient to her and many she took to her heart as friends. She was known by all for her deep compassion, giving nature, and fierce conviction that everyone should have the ability to pass pain free and in peace. She had a Big Heart and gave of herself unconditionally.

On August 8, 1980, Cheryl married Rich Stralow, her devoted husband of more than 42 years. She had her 2nd daughter, Nicole B. Stralow in 1982. She moved from Roselle, Illinois to South Jordan, Utah in 1995, where she resided until the time of her death.

Cheryl especially loved Utah's snow-covered mountains and the changing color of the leaves in fall. She found joy in tending to animals, whether it be feeding the birds in her backyard or spending time with her cats, Zeppelin and Bootsie. She was a natural at nurturing all forms of life and enjoyed her garden where the lilacs and irises thrived.
