Jeweler, oil rigger, and trucking and equipment businessman were a few of his many pursuits. He loved Southern California and called it home for most of his life.

Gust was a brilliant, passionate man. Those who knew him would always mention his extreme intelligence. He had the ability to make everyone around him feel his presence when he walked into a room. He was a great story teller and loved to tell people about the experiences he had throughout his life. He was an avid reader and enjoyed to read books of all kinds. He also loved to study the law in his spare time.

Gust was all about family. His family was everything to him. Wherever he was he would remain in close contact with his family. Always deeply concerned and connected.
