LeiOma Anne Wolf

May 18, 1949 ~ August 16, 2013

LeiOma Anne Wolf, known as "Butch", or "Butchie", by her family, was born on 18 May 1949 and passed from this life 16 August 2013, to return home to be with her loving parents, Hyrum Joseph Wolf and Myrtle Edna Winter, after a long struggle with cancer. She was also preceded in death by her brother, Vernon Wolf and his wife Patricia Krogh Wolf, and brother in law George Arthur Moore. LeiOma's Designation was 7 of 10. The Collective was very important to her and she had a significant role in many people's lives. She was uniquely wonderful and amazing. LeiOma graduated from Granger High School and then attended Utah State University. She served a mission in Brazil for the LDS Church and faithfully served in many church callings throughout her life. She began working for Mountain Bell and retired from USWEST, where she excelled and made significant contributions to the company. LeiOma was very talented and smart, however, she attributed her career success to the Lord.

She shared all of her interests with everyone she loved, from ceramics, oil painting, quilting, and scrapbooking to genealogy and her love for science fiction. LeiOma laid her life aside to take excellent care of her mother. As the family's "leveler," she could calm and sooth the troubled waters and help bring peace back into the hearts of those she loved. Her heart was as big as all outdoors and she made sure that everyone in her presence felt valued. Yet, she was a spitfire and always spoke her mind, and if you were in the wrong she would let you know. She was there for her nieces, nephews and her siblings in all their joys and trials. LeiOma loved animals, maybe even more than people because of their ability to love perfectly. Her pets were her babies and she wasn't really content without one or two or five. Her desire was, that when she was met on the other side, she would be met by all of her pets. Her siblings, Bonnie Wolf, Lois Moore, Lynne Wolf, Dean (Linda) Wolf, Marvin (Darlene) Wolf, Arlen (DeNece) Wolf, Careen (Craig) Walker, Glennys (Kim) Ware, and Irene Wolf miss her but are happy for the release with which she has been blessed.

We all love you "Butchie" and we thank you for your sweet, caring, and loving spirit.

Many thanks to Haven Hospice nurses and staff, for their kind and loving care, warm uplifting hugs and gentle service.
