George Edward Hancox of Sandy, Utah, passed away peacefully in his home with his family by his side at age 73 on October 28, 2024. He had a brief battle with cancer.

George was born in Long Beach, California on December 3, 1950, to George and Joanne Hancox. He graduated from Magnolia High School and continued his education at the University of Utah. He had a brilliant career as a Quality Engineer and retired from EDO Corporation.

George first met Jeanne, the love of his life, in grade school. They became friends immediately, fell in love years later, and were married in May 1977. George and Jeanne spent their early years together at Huntington Beach and had loving times with romantic strolls on the Surf City pier.

George and Jeanne were blessed with two daughters, Heather Anne Carlson and Sara Lynn Siciliano. In 1982, the young family moved to Utah when he accepted a job offer from Sperry Univac.

George enjoyed playing acoustic guitar and loved the outdoors, fishing, camping, sailing, and spotting wildlife. He enjoyed adding trips to local parks and streams as part of his daily routine. He also loved sports. George passed on his love of baseball to his grandson Connor, where he devoted many years watching and participating in almost every game and tournament Connor played in. Golf was his favorite pastime. Over the last 30+ years, he played frequently at Murray Parkway Golf Course where he developed many long lasting friendships with the staff and players.

George was preceded in death by his parents, George and Joanne Hancox and his wife Jeanne. Left to cherish his memory are his daughters Heather (Cory) and Sara (Nick), his grandchildren Taylor, Connor, and Emma, as well as his brothers, Mike, Rick, Rob, and his sister Vicky, along with many nieces, and nephews.
