Angus LaMar Wall

September 19, 1925 ~ August 15, 2013

Our wonderful husband, father, and grandfather, Angus LaMar Wall, 87, passed away from natural causes August 15, 2013. Born September 19, 1925 in Chuichupa, Chihuahua, Mexico. At 14, he and his family moved to Provo, Utah. LaMar maintained his dual citizenship, spoke fluent Spanish and had a great talent for other languages. LaMar served honorably in the United States Army and on an LDS mission to Mexico. He held many church callings, including being an ordinance worker for 15 years. Preceded in death by his parents, four siblings, his son Brent, a dear daughter-in-law, and five grandchildren, and survived by his love of 56 years, Dora May, five sons, twenty-eight grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren. LaMar was a kind and generous man and lived a truly Christ-like life. Dora May says he spoiled her rotten and always held her hand. LaMar is the stalwart patriarch of a righteous posterity who look to his example and unwavering testimony of his Savior, Jesus Christ. The sun is dimmer; the flowers in his yard hung their heads as he slipped away, surrounded by his precious family.
