When their son and Scott returned home from his mission, both Scott and Tami were sealed in the temple to their parents on September 21, 1990. He later wrote down in his journal that Sharon is his best friend, and the one person who truly understood him. Their marriage of 41 years was filled with love and a once in a lifetime friendship.

Jacy had the ability to make friends easily and make everyone around him feel at ease. His favorite hobby and passion was camping in the desert with his family and several self-proclaimed "adopted sons". He was a mentor and a larger-than-life hero to all who knew him.
