Joy lived a very full life, full of fun, drive, spitfire attitude and service. She had an intense love of music, which she later revealed was due to its ability to change the world by changing our hearts, and moving people to live with inspiration, life and loving. She shared that music with everyone and was involved in some type of muscle program, piano teaching, and or church music for her entire life. She had an intense commitment to integrity, honor, righteousness, and a undying love of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. She was a force to be reckoned with, and a force that changed all those that knew her. She will be dearly missed and always loved. She was the “Joy” of our lives.
