

Logan Steel Flynn Andreason

July 19, 2006 ~ March 8, 2022

Logan Steel Andreason, our beautiful son, left us unexpectedly March 8th, 2022.

Logan was born in Salt Lake City on July 19th, 2006 and from then on anybody who met him couldn't help but love his beaming smile and beautiful blue eyes.

Logan's first love was Blank, his little baby blanket. Everywhere he went Blank had to go too. Then came Legos. Logan loved putting sets together much more advanced than his age. His wonderful imagination really shone through in his 'Custom' builds. If there was a character he didn't have, no problem, Custom. Didn't have a car, Custom. He loved to create and pass out individually designed creations to those he loved.

Logan loved life. His smile and laugh would brighten every place he went and he loved to go places. He would call them adventures. Logan would laugh and talk from the back seat the entire drive. He knew that getting there was half the fun. He loved being spontaneous. As long as it included a pool at the end, he was happy.

Logan loved going to the University of Utah games. His first game being at 3 months old. He enjoyed tailgating with all the adults, seeing the band play, hanging with Swoop and chanting go Utes on TV. There too he made an impression on everyone who met him.

Logan loved the mountains. He especially looked forward to our annual trips to Oktoberfest at Snowbird, snowboarding trips to Bear Lake and river rafting trips to various rivers. Even as a small child he would talk about how beautiful the mountains are and how lucky he was to be so close to them.

Logan loved watching his favorite teams play. Whether it was the Steelers (where he got his middle name), the Utes, the Dodgers or the Avalanche. He especially enjoyed the Outdoor Stadium Series Game with the 'Boys'. Again, he was happiest with people.

Logan was an old soul. Anyone could tell by the music he listened too. The Beatles were his favorite and he knew everything about them. His first concert was Paul McCartney at Dodgers stadium with a surprise walk on by Ringo Starr. He joked that he was only 13 and he would never be to a better concert than that.

Most of all Logan loved his family and friends. To him he didn't have cousins or friends as they ALL were his brothers and sisters. He genuinely loved. He would ask others how they were doing and truly wanted to know the answer. He enjoyed spending time with those he loved whether it be gaming, watching School of Rock or Breakfast Club, walking to the store to stock up on snacks, hanging with friends giving them a hard time or rating movies with grandpa Homer. His favorite memories were growing up with his cousins at both of his grandparents homes. He loved getting the chance to spend time with his family. They were always greeted with a hug and an 'I love you'.

Logan will be terribly missed by anybody he was lucky enough to have him brighten their life.

Logan is survived by his parents, Christopher ‘Shannon’ and Jeri Andreason (nee Flynn); Grandparents, Suzanne & Kerry ‘Q-Pa’ Tanton, Harold ‘Papa Papa’ and Betty Farnsworth; aunts/uncles, Shyler ‘Mate’ Andreason, Shawn (Tammie) Andreason, Dana (Sam) Allen and Devlin Flynn, cousins: Emily, Brynn, Avery, Charlie, Zander, Kaizer, Christie & Trina. As well as numerous other second cousins and relatives.

Preceeded in death by grandfather, Chris ‘Homer’ Andreason and uncle, John Finnegan
