Jan. 13, 1926 ~ Jan. 14, 2023

Marva Lucinda Hillyard Egbert passed away peacefully on January 14, the day after her 97th birthday. She was born on January 13, 1926, in Cornish, Utah to W. Hazen and Ruby Nilson Hillyard, who were loving and devoted parents. She married her eternal companion, David Wesley Egbert, on July 19, 1950, in the Logan Utah Temple. They were happily married for 53 years before David passed away in 2003.

Marva spent a delightful childhood living in Smithfield, Utah. She was the middle child with two older brothers and two younger sisters.

Marva attended North Cache High School, where she participated in seminary, the Home Economics Club, Chorus, played the piano in the orchestra, served on the Student Court Council, and was editor of the yearbook. She then attended Utah State Agricultural College where she served as an Officer of the Home Economics Club and Associated Women Students. She was also a member of the following student organizations: Alpha Chi Omega, Upsilon Omicron – scholastic honor society in the field of Family and Consumer Science, Sponsors – a military women's auxiliary and yearbook staff. She graduated in 1948 with a bachelor's degree in Vocational Home Economics. Marva taught school in Springville and Hyrum, Utah.

Marva cherished music and playing the piano. At the age of 14, Marva performed an hour-long recital of classical music, which was all memorized. She enjoyed accompanying others as they performed, and delighted in teaching young students to play.

Marva was a devoted member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She and David had many opportunities to serve in church callings and served for many years in both the Chicago and Bountiful temples.

For more than forty years, Marva and David enjoyed living in Berkeley, CA, Washington, DC, Pittsburgh, PA, and Chicago, IL. In 1992, upon retirement, they moved to Bountiful, UT. They cherished the many friendships made through the years in each of the places they lived.

Marva had a great interest in real estate and investing in the stock market. She enjoyed sharing that knowledge with others. She and David enjoyed traveling to England, France, Scandinavia, Egypt, Israel, China, Hong Kong, and Oberammergau, Germany.

Marva was an exceptional homemaker, mother, and grandmother. She cherished her family and loved them deeply. From her example, we learned the importance of family, education, and living the gospel of Jesus Christ. She spent many hours helping and serving those around her.

Marva was preceded in death by her beloved husband, David, her parents, her sister, Evelyn, and her brothers Randall and Ferris. She is survived by her five children, Stephen (Paula Toney), San Diego, CA, Martin (Allyson Jensen), Henderson, NV, Carol (Mac) Epps, Ashburn, VA, John (Denise May), Bountiful, UT and Jim (Susan Cutler), Sandy, UT, 27 grandchildren, 30 great-grandchildren, her sister, Eunice Davis, and sister-in-law Faye Hillyard.
