Personal Information:

She was devoted to her family. She comforted both of her husbands and her sister and brother-in-law during the final days of their lives. She often composed poems that she included in her handwritten birthday wishes to everyone. She loved animals, music, ice cream, crocheting and creating photo albums.

She cherished her time as a temple worker in the Logan Temple. Church callings in the nursery and primary brought her joy. She kept in touch with the children in her classes long after they left her care.

We celebrate and honor her goodness and loving kindness, the memory of which will remain in our hearts forever.
