She was a dedicated educator who humbly supported her students in encouraging their learning. She was a natural and gifted teacher. Her selfless devotion to education inspired and influenced generations.

She was a devoted member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She served faithfully with all her heart in many callings, doing her best to exemplify the Savior. Pat was very talented and pursued many interests which always included her family. Some of her favorites were: reading, dancing, listening to classical and spiritual music, sewing, playing the piano and organ, cooking gourmet meals and gardening.

Pat's family meant everything to her and she was happiest when surrounded by them. She was a selfless daughter, sister, wife, mother and grandmother. She is survived by her children: Erika Lindley, Emily Timothy (Clint), Elissa Liddle (Johnathan), Melinda Ekins (Jamon), Marci Koenig (Jonathan), Jenni Britton (Jason), nineteen grandchildren, her brother Randall, nieces, nephews, extended family and many grandpets.
