

Rebecca Lovato

October 6, 1959 ~ September 6, 2020

It is with great sadness we announce the death of our beloved Rebecca "Becky" Lovato. She fought the good fight. In as much as it could be on her terms, she decided it was time for her to leave us. Surrounded by loved ones her passing came on September 6, 2020 in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Her story began on October 6, 1959 when she was born to Julia Aguayo and Isaac Lovato in Salt Lake City, Utah. Rebecca was a wonderful mother, grandmother, daughter, sister and auntie. She doted on her family and was happiest spending time with them, seeing their successes and watching them grow. Rebecca was fortunate enough to have been able to live and work in many places. For a time in Washington, Kelso, CA., Broken Arrow, OK., and Estacion Consuelo, Chihuahua, Mexico. In every place she lived she made friends. Not just small time friends. Life long friends. She made a point to nurture her friendships, stay and touch and made sure they knew they were important, loved and mattered to her.

Rebecca shared her talents with everyone at one time or another. She could make something from nothing. A ball of string into the most beautiful crochet work. The most simple doily, hat, blouse, blanket or baby bootie would certainly have intricate, beautiful and artistic stitching. If you were ever gifted one of her creations you were sure to know she cared about you and you were sure to cherish it every time it was used. She could take a piece of fruit you thought was done and would bake the most delicious bread with it. If she ever shared her banana nut bread with you, you could taste the love in the bread. Flour and water into the tastiest tortillas or a variety of baked treats. Rebecca certainly valued those old traditions of creating something with her hands and love.

Rebecca was an avid writer. She took her time with words to make sure that every one that was written was meaningful. Her favorite way to keep in touch with far away friends was the old fashioned way with pen and paper. For you "youngins" that meant putting it in an envelope, addressing it, placing a stamp on the envelope and putting it in that blue mailbox. Her son Jesus would often see the writings and say "Mom you should really write a book, people would love to buy a book written like that."

During the past few years, Rebecca took an great interest towards her ancestry. Spending countless hours researching and using her writing talent documenting her family history. Rebecca felt it was good for her family to know who your are, where you came from and to know how your past impacts you now. Use this knowledge to improve ourselves and families for the future. Most of all so that her family could be proud of their heritage.

Rebecca was most proud of her grandchildren. You could often find her at Franny's baseball games, teaching Jimena a new craft, spending time with Mikey and hearing about Joel's accomplishments.

Rebecca has been reunited in heaven with her father Isaac Lovato, sister Denise Lovato, brother Joseph (Chepo) Lovato and many others. Rebecca is survived by her son Jesus Lovato (Josefina), grandchildren Joel Alvarez, Mikey, Franny, Jimena Lovato, godson Carlos Corrales (Yajaira), goddaughters Christina Corrales and Zina Salcedo. Also survived by her mother Julia Torres, sister Cynthia Acosta, Ursula Hernandez (Martin), Cathy Hernandez, Michelle Cabral (Heribeto) brother, Richard Lovato (Patricia), sister Julie Lovato and many aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews to name.

A celebration of life will be held Sunday September 13, 2020 between 4:00pm - 6:00pm at Larkin Mortuary 260 E South Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah, 84111.
