She was born to her parents Arch Peter and Alice Lambert Robertson in Salt Lake City, Utah. She attended school in Salt Lake City, graduating from East High School in 1947. She also attended the University of Utah and was a member of Alpha Phi Sorority. She met the love of her life, Gene Earl Torgersen, while in high school, and they were married in the Salt Lake Temple on August 17, 1950.

Returning from Virginia they bought a home in east Salt Lake City where they lived for about 10 years before building their dream home just a few blocks away on Sage Way. They lived there from 1965 to 1999 before moving to Sandy, Utah. Always active in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Ruth served faithfully in many callings including Primary President and Relief Society President in the Parleys 7th Ward and worked with the Primary General Board as well. She loved Scouting and served as a Den mother and Merit Badge Counselor.

She was active in community service as she volunteered as a Pink Lady at Primary Children's Hospital and served as PTA President for both Beacon Heights Elementary School and Hillside Junior High and served in the PTA at Highland High. She also spent many hours volunteering for the Utah Heart Association and served as an election judge many times.

She loved music and sang with the Salt Lake Oratorio Society and various church choirs. She and Dad were season ticket holders for the Utah Symphony and loved the Mormon Tabernacle Choir.
