The Wind is a Lion

The wind is a lion from March until May,
It roars to awaken the spring,
But I know the snow will be melted away.
When I hear the first robin to sing, to sing,
When I hear the first robin to sing.

The robin will sing from May until June,
His song will be ever so gay,
And I will delight in hearing his tune,
It means we are going away, away,
It means we are going away.

Our bed will be the stony ground,
Our blanket will be the sky.
But friendly angels will gather around
To watch us from on high, on high,
To watch us from on high.

The hardest miles lie yet ahead,
The hardest miles to go
But there’s never a mile I’ll ever dread.
While walking with God I know, I know,
While walking with God I know.

Younger Than Springtime

I touch your hands and my arms grow strong,
Like a pair of birds that burst with song.
My eyes look down at your lovely face,
And I hold the world in my embrace.

Younger than springtime are you,
Softer than starlight are you;
Warmer than winds of June are the gentle lips you gave me,
Gayer than laughter are you,
Sweeter than music are you;

Angel and lover, heaven and earth,
Are you to me. And when your youth and joy invade my arms

And fill my heart, as now they do,
Younger than springtime am I,
Gayer than laughter am I,
Angel and lover, heaven and earth,
Am I with you.
